"You gotta have style. It helps you get down the stairs.
It helps you get up in the morning. It's a way of life.
Without it, you're nobody. I'm not talking about lots of clothes."

A woman is shown from the waist up, wearing a bright green kurta with yellow and white geometric patterns. She is also wearing a matching green dupatta with a yellow border. She has a gold necklace and bangles. She is posing with one hand on her head, looking towards the camera. The background is a blurred outdoor setting.

"Fashion you can buy, but style you possess. The key to style is knowing who you are, which makes sense. There's no hard-to-read map to style. It's about self-expression and doing it, artfully."

"What you wear is how you present yourself to the world, especially today, when human contacts are so sparse, fashion is instant language."
